BIOPESTICIDES NORTH AMERICA

9th & 10th October, 2019 - ORLANDO, US

Following our success with the previous edition, ACI is organising the 2nd Biopesticides North America 2019 Conference, taking place in Orlando US, on 9–10 October 2019.

Biopesticides market is poised to witness significant gains with the escalating demand for healthy crop generation. The industry has been evolving at a rapid pace, which is quite evident from the growing consumer preferences for organic food and demand for eco-friendly crop protection pesticides.

A growing awareness of biopesticides' favourable features, including safety and efficiency, as well as stringent legislative requirements, are driving the biopesticides market.

Join us in Orlando for a highly interactive & informative conference, to discover the key subjects and updates from the latest developments in essential areas of the Biopesticides.

Key Topics for discussion:

- Commercialization of Biopesticides
- Designing Principles for a Better Regulatory Systems
- Novel Biopesticides Formulation Technologies
- Gaining Insights on Microbials: Challenges & Opportunities
- Focusing on Bacterial Biopesticides Market
- Advancing Farming Practices for Sustainable Industry
- Economic Value of Biologically Based IPM
