Расписание мероприятий

09 декабря 19.30 мск - бесплатный вебинар Мэттью Элмана 'Grammar Teaching in the Age of Covid-19'

Classrooms have changed completely in 2020, with many of us now teaching online or in a socially-distanced environment. Our students are now in masks, spaced far apart, or sitting behind a webcam (which may or may not be switched on!) In this session we'll consider how these new restrictions affect grammar teaching, and we'll look at some tips and strategies for ensuring success whether you're teaching online or face-to-face.

16 декабря - бесплатный вебинар Нила Холлоуэя (Neil Holloway) 'Succeeding in Academic writing in English' в рамках конференции «Проблемы лингвистики и лингводидактики в неязыковом вузе»

The aim of this talk is to help Russian speaking students understand how to improve their academic writing in English and to analyse some of the differences in approach in English and Russian. We will explore ways of bridging the gap between the linguistic knowledge learnt in language classes and the skills that you need to be successful when writing in English for an academic audience. We will also keep in mind the differences in expectations around the choice of language used for this skill in both languages. Drawing on real life examples from the Cambridge English Corpus we will look at different genres, such as reports and essays and analyse the overall flow, structure vocabulary and grammar that need to be considered in order to succeed.
